

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE
STATE BOARD OF TAX COMMISSIONERS,
ALBANY, N. Y., March 15, 1905.

To the Legislature of the State of New York:

Report is hereby made to your honorable body for the year 1904:

EXEMPT REAL ESTATE.

The tabulation of exemptions required by chapter 438 of the Laws of 1904 to be published in the report of the State Board of Tax Commissioners on or before February 1st has been delayed because of the incomplete returns made by the local assessors to the clerks of the boards of supervisors. Our efforts to have the omissions supplied have necessitated much correspondence and instruction, because of the misunderstanding of the scope of the act. At this date, notwithstanding repeated requests by letter from this department, we are without any returns from the towns of Delaware county, the towns of Binghamton, Conklin and Fenton in Broome county, the town of Cato in Cayuga county, the town of Caroga in Fulton county, the town of East Greenbush in Rensselaer county, the town of Addison in Steuben county, and the town of Sheldon in Wyoming county. Many returns are incomplete, in that they do not include all classes of exempt property. The reasons given for failure to make the reports have been the lack of understanding of the meaning of the act and the refusal of town boards to audit bills of assessors for time necessary in making the return. Because of these failures the result obtained is not accurate. However, it is hoped that another year more complete returns may be secured. The Commissioners appreciate the desirability of bringing to the attention of the Legislature the vast amount of real estate which is exempt from assessment and taxation and the classification of such exemptions. The policy of the State has always been liberal in granting exemptions to educational, religious and charitable organizations. Whether the point has been reached when it can with due consideration curtail its eleemosynary gifts is a question for deliberation, and we call your particular attention to the proportion which the value of the exempt property bears to the value of the total real estate. The aggregation of exemptions, as shown by the table, reaches the sum of $1,327,914,982, nearly 20 per cent. of the total assessed value of realty in the entire State. In our report to the Legislature last year we called attention to the fact that since 1900 the increase in exemptions had been nearly 40 per cent., while the increase in assessment was only 4 per cent.

Since 1893, the first year when by special act exemptions were reported for the entire State, the increase, as shown by the returns made, is 127 per cent. The increase in assessed valuation is a trifle less than 80 per cent., including 45 per cent. increase in property in Greater New York in a single year.

In addition to this vast amount of real estate exempted by statute must be considered the personal property legally exempt. Savings banks alone have deposits of over a billion of dollars. A recent statement of the Comptroller shows $770,000 in taxes was paid into the State treasury, being a tax of 1 per cent. levied upon the surplus of these institutions; which, if considered a tax upon the deposits, would be at the rate of 77 cents on each $1,000 of deposits.

There is also omitted from the table the value of the State canals. Only ten towns having reported the value of such property, and considering the difficulty of securing it for each town through which the canals pass, it was decided to omit statement of this property until another year. The local assessors are unfamiliar with canal construction, and we found it impossible to learn from the records in the office of the Department of Public Works the extent of canal property in each town or in any way to get an estimate of its value except by personal examination.

ASSESSMENTS.

The aggregate assessed value of real and personal property, usually appearing in our report, is, for the year 1904, unavailable because of the failure to this date of several counties to file complete returns, notwithstanding our effort to obtain the same. Indications point, however, to a substantial increase in realty values.

The aggregate of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of National and State banks for the year 1903 was $345,477,194.81, being an increase over the figures of the year previous of $90,855,231.72. Upon this amount is levied a tax of 1 per cent., which is paid into the local treasuries, showing an increase in the taxes available for local purposes of $908,552.31.

SEPARATE VALUATION OF LAND AND IMPROVEMENTS.

The method of assessing the land separate from the buildings and improvements in New York city is approved in its practical workings by the Tax Department, values being ascertained with more accuracy, and the Commissioners greatly aided in checking up the work of their deputies.

The village of Cold Spring is the first rural district to adopt the method of assessing land and buildings separately. Graded values of land divided into blocks were established and thus reduced to lot value. We believe this method of arriving at values for purposes of taxation should be adopted by the assessors throughout the State.

We note that the State Assessors in their reports to the Legislature for the years 1877, 1878 and 1879 make similar recommendation, urging upon all local assessors the separate valuation of land and improvements thereon in the towns, villages and cities of the State, as being the only way to arrive at a correct and satisfactory assessed valuation.

COURT DECISIONS.

With the validity of the Special Franchise Tax Law not yet determined by the United States Supreme Court, but few decisions have been made by the New York State courts construing the law in other respects. April 3d next is the date fixed for argument before the United States Supreme Court.

The most important decision bearing upon the law in the year 1904 was in the case of Fred H. W. Heerwagen, as Comptroller of the City of Buffalo, versus Crosstown Street Railway Company, in which the question arose as to whether a percentage of gross receipts paid by a corporation for franchise privileges to a municipality could be used as an offset against tax due on special franchise assessment, involving interpretation of section 46 of the Tax Law. The Court of Appeals, in 179 New York, page 99, held that: "The percentages paid the municipality, although not in a strict and accurate sense of the term a tax, are in the nature of a rent charge, but, granting this, it seems manifest from the plain terms of the statute that these are the very payments which the Legislature intended should be deducted from the amount of the special franchise tax, and come within the provisions of section 46 of the Tax Law." This decision affects many cities outside of Buffalo in which corporations are paying various amounts for the privilege of using public streets.

Another point of interest pertaining to the law is brought up in the case of The People ex rel. Rochester Telephone Company versus State Board of Tax Commissioners, to wit: The right of a city through its board of assessors to be made a party in certiorari proceedings brought by a corporation on its special franchise assessment. The history of this case is as follows:

May 6, 1903, writ of certiorari to review the assessment of the State Board of Tax Commissioners issued.

May 13, 1903, return of State Board of Tax Commissioners made.

Proceeding tried at Special Term in Albany, June 27, 1903, and assessment confirmed, but reduced to $168,672.

Order made at Special Term, January 23, 1904, permitting the city of Rochester to be made a party defendant.

Said order reversed by the Appellate Division on June 4, 1904.

June 11, 1904, application by the assessors of the city of Rochester to be made parties defendant.

July 20, 1904, order of Special Term permitting assessors to be made parties defendant.

This order of the Special Term was thereafter modified to the effect that the writ granted on the 5th day of May should run to the assessors as well as to the Tax Commissioners, and commanding the assessors to make a return of their proceedings.

All parties asked for permission to appeal from such order of modification to the Court of Appeals, and permission was granted, and the following questions certified to be answered by the Court of Appeals:

First. Was it the purpose of the statute to permit a relator assessed for a special franchise to challenge that assessment as unequal upon the ground that such special franchise was assessed at a greater ratio of value than was the real property upon the roll assessed by the local assessors?

Second. Has the Supreme Court, in this proceeding, after the filing of the return by the State Board of Tax Commissioners and the trial of the issue raised by such return and before final decision thereon, power to amend the order directing the writ so as to direct that the writ shall run to the Board of Assessors of the city of Rochester, upon their application, as well as to the State Board of Tax Commissioners?

Third. If the first and second questions shall be answered yes, has the Supreme Court power, in this proceeding, to direct the assessors of the city of Rochester to file a return and authorize them to therein put in issue and raise and litigate the question whether the other real property upon the same roll, upon which the assessment of the relator's special franchise appears was or was not assessed at its full and true value?

Fourth. If the first, second and third questions shall be answered yes, has the Supreme Court power, in this proceeding, to permit the assessors of the city of Rochester to raise, by their return, and litigate the question whether the State Board of Tax Commissioners have in the assessment of the relator's special franchise assessed the same at its full and true value or at a sum less than its full and true value?

APPEALS FROM COUNTY EQUALIZATION.

December 23, 1901, the town of Preble filed with the State Board an appeal from the equalization as made by the board of supervisors of Cortland county. The case was tried in October, 1902; in November argument was made by counsel for the town and for the board of supervisors; and December 4, 1902, the appeal was by the State Board of Tax Commissioners dismissed. A writ of certiorari to review the decision was taken by the town of Preble and in January, 1904, the decision of the Appellate Division upheld the findings of the State Board. The case was carried to the Court of Appeals, and in January, 1905, that court affirmed the decision of the Appellate Division and sustained the action of the State Board of Tax Commissioners.

There is now pending before the board an appeal taken by the city of Yonkers from the equalization as made by the board of supervisors of Westchester county, and both parties have been asked to name a date when they will be prepared to submit evidence, and the matter will be taken up in the near future.

THE TAXATION OF RAILWAYS.

The taxation of the steam railways of the United States has been a subject of much agitation and discussion by economists and tax commissions. We have examined many of these reports and they contain much of interest, showing careful thought and close study of the subject in various forms.

Railroad taxation began with the application of the general property tax administered by local officers to these corporations. The laws designed and framed for the taxation of the property of individuals were consequently applied to the assessment of railroad property, and although inadequate to reach the taxable capacity of those corporations, the practice has not disappeared in all of the States. The progress away from the original plan has been difficult and exceedingly slow in development. The pervading idea of local government is that, as all persons and property within the jurisdiction of the district must be protected by the local authorities, the corresponding right of taxation of all property must exist to enable that duty to be performed. The power to locally tax one species of property once acquired is held with great tenacity and reluctantly surrendered. This view extends to cities, towns and villages throughout the country where advocates are found for local taxation of every species of property without regard to its complex or interstate character.

The opposition to surrendering local power as well as sources of local revenue has defeated more rational and scientific laws for the taxation of corporate property and prevented the separation of corporate taxation from the general property tax on real estate and tangible personality. The fear of antagonizing local interests has inclined Legislatures to permit the taxing districts to continue the taxation of the property of railroads and to supplement the local tax by the new or special forms of taxation on franchises, earnings, etc., etc., and, instead of establishing a new and comprehensive system for the assessment of railroads, they have engrafted upon the general property tax other taxes of various kinds which are deemed the equivalent of all the public burdens the railroads should bear. The patch-work thus produced is exhibited in the laws of some of the States, and the whole situation is confused when the systems of all the States are analyzed with a view of comparing the same for the purpose of ascertaining the best and most approved method of railroad taxation. The laws even of the same general scope have received different judicial construction, so that the States with statutes in similiar language may be different in important particulars in their actual administration. A law treatise would be necessary to furnish a complete summary of existing laws for the taxation of transportation companies and to indicate the precise method practiced in all of the States. The inadequacy of the General Property Tax Law, when applied to corporate property, has long been recognized, and as other elements possessed additional value they were appropriated to make up deficiencies. Among the most important of these elements was the franchise to be a corporation, to acquire and possess property, to take the lands of private citizens by the sovereign right of eminent domain, for corporation use upon making a just compensation, and to fix and collect charges for receiving and carrying traffic.

Examination of the report of Prof. Henry C. Adams, Statistician to the Interstate Commerce Commission, referring to the various laws under which railways are taxed, gives tables showing that an advalorem tax on the value of the whole or some part of the real and personal property of railroads prevails in forty-two States, five territories and the District of Columbia. Such tax is the principal source of revenue in thirty-three States, and practically the whole in twenty-two States. The specific tax on gross or net earnings, revenue or dividends, in connection with a property tax, exists in twelve States exclusive of Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The trend of modern legislation toward better methods is clearly shown. The General Property Tax Law was well enough suited to the conditions existing when corporations were nearly all of a local character, but the consolidation of local companies into trunk lines demonstrated that local administration was poorly adapted to cope with changed conditions. The departure from the old plan of assessment of valuation is not to be attributed to a change of attitude on the question of taxation of corporate property on a uniform basis of value with that of individuals, but to the transfer of power to boards possessing State jurisdiction. The trend is in the direction of creating new administrative methods adapted to and capable of determining the value of property of transportation companies with greater certainty. The result has been the establishment of methods for railroad taxation radically different in operation and administration from those employed in the taxation of individuals. The system most generally used and approved is one which vests in State boards free from local influences and conditions the duty of valuing railroad property for taxation, with broad powers to require reports, examine books, investigate, and obtain information necessary for the determination of such value.

The theory of a license or gross earnings fee or tax does not have the endorsement of the best students on taxation. Gross earnings do not bear a definite and certain relation to real ability to pay taxes, in that no account is taken of the expenses of operation or the actual costs of the property. If the cost of building a railroad is great its gross earnings must be correspondingly great or its owners cannot obtain a fair return on the investment. Take two railroads which have equally large gross earnings, both equally well and economically managed, but one in an excellent natural location, while the location and situation of the other is just the reverse, which necessarily greatly increases the cost of operation and maintenance; and no one will contend that the second road with little ability to pay in comparison with its rival should pay the same gross earnings fee or tax. The gross earnings tax to be permanent must meet the conception of uniformity and equality, which we believe it can never do.

SPECIAL FRANCHISES.

The number of corporations, firms, and individuals having property in the public streets and highways subject to special franchise valuations and required to make reports to this Board was 1,593 for the year 1904. Careful examination was made of the reports of these corporations, also of the reports of the local authorities, confidential appraisers and special agents of the Board, and 5,020 separate valuations have been certified to 963 tax districts, aggregating in amount $302,688,757, being an increase over the year 1903 of $17,890,165.

After five years administration of a new law, involving valuations now exceeding three hundred million dollars and increasing values of the same property nearly two hundred millions, it may be fitting to say a few words relative to the results thus attained. The duties and difficulties of the assessing officers are not by the general public appreciated or fully understood. The distribution of taxes for the support of government, State and local, upon the basis of the dollar value of all property, is of keenest interest to the people and necessarily a matter of great care and deep concern to the assessing power. Their work is of a peculiar nature, requiring courage and diligent and business-like effort, involving the examination of extended reports and data concerning the details of which the public can have no knowledge except as shown by the final results.

While these results have without exception when reached been the unanimous judgment of the Board, it is not to be assumed that the Commissioners have always been of one mind or always followed the same line of reasoning. Frequently each has differed from his colleagues, and vigorous discussions touching the merits and demerits of various elements affecting values have brought out many facts and conditions contributing to the final harmonious result, so that when a determination was reached each felt the decision was his own. An earnest desire to do justice as between the corporation and the municipality has been the predominating influence throughout the work of the Board.

MORTGAGE TAXATION.

In view of the fact that several bills are now pending in the Legislature dealing with mortgage taxation, we refrain from recommendation upon the subject except to say that the present demoralized condition of affairs should stop now. All mortgages should be uniformly taxed or all should be exempt. At present but few mortgages upon realty are placed upon the rolls and by far the greater number of those are small mortgages belonging to widows and orphans and estates, which can least of all afford to bear the burden of taxation. We sincerely trust that this important subject will be disposed of one way or the other at this session of the Legislature.

Respectfully submitted,

LESTER F. STEARNS,
WILLIAM HALPIN,
CEYLON H. LEWIS,
Commissioners.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Minutes of the Annual Meeting of the State Board of Equalization, held at the office of the Secretary of State, at Albany, N. Y., September 6, 1904.

Present: John F. O'Brien, Secretary of State; Otto Kelsey, Comptroller; John Cunneen, Attorney-General; Henry A. Van Alstyne, Engineer and Surveyor; John G. Wickser, State Treasurer; Lester F. Stearns, Tax Commissioner.

Absent: Frank W. Higgins, Lieutenant Governor; S. Fred Nixon, Speaker of the Assembly; George E. Priest, Tax Commissioner; William Halpin, Tax Commissioner.

On motion of Tax Commissioner Stearns, Secretary of State O'Brien was made Chairman of the Board.

On motion of Tax Commissioner Stearns, Herbert L. Austin was made Secretary of the Board.

The following report of the State Board of Tax Commissioners was presented by Tax Commissioner Stearns:

To the State Board of Equalization:

The assessed value of all property liable locally to State taxation, as returned by the Boards of Supervisors of the various counties, for the year 1903, is as follows:

Real estate.....	$6,749,509,958
Personal property.....	$819,203,165
Less amount not liable locally for State purposes.....	122,236,996
	<hr/>
	696,966,169
Total.....	<hr/>
	$7,446,476,127
Increase over 1902 in real estate of.....	$1,451,746,076
Increase over 1902 in personal estate.....	140,229,930
	<hr/>
Total increase.....	<hr/>
	$1,591,976,006

This increase of nearly 27½ per cent. in real estate was made chiefly in Greater New York and Erie county, and the equalization will add to the assessed valuation of many counties heretofore reduced.

The State tax, having diminished to the constitutional requirement covered by the Legislature in a rate of $\frac{1}{10}$ mills, is so small that if the entire amount were levied alone upon New York or the counties outside of New York, it would be infinitesimal to the individual taxpayer.

Official visitations were made during the year 1904 to the following named counties:

Albany,	Herkimer,	Putnam,
Allegany,	Jefferson,	St. Lawrence,
Broome,	Madison,	Saratoga,
Cayuga,	Montgomery,	Seneca,
Chautauqua.	Niagara,	Tioga,
Chemung,	Onondaga,	Tompkins,
Columbia,	Ontario,	Wayne,
Cortland,	Orange,	Westchester,
Erie,	Orleans,	Wyoming,
Genesee,	Oswego,	Yates.

Increasing interest is shown by local assessors in a full attendance at these meetings with the State Tax Commissioners. Instructions to Town Boards in the difficult problem of annual occurrence, covering construction of laws, knowledge of court decisions as applied to varied statements of facts, have given to the local taxing authorities better knowledge of their duties under the law; and through a fuller discussion by the assembling of representatives from each town in the counties, more uniform assessments prevail, as evidenced by the infrequent appeals from county equalizations filed with the State Board. The increasing volume of correspondence with local assessors indicates a desire for a more thorough knowledge in the performance of their work, and the Attorney-General's department has given cheerfully valuable aid in all matters pertaining to legal questions.

The Board has inquired into the methods of local assessment; examined assessors and supervisors as witnesses under oath; compared sales considerations with assessed values; viewed property; questioned others than officials as to values; and in all ways permissible has sought such information as would qualify it to apportion with fairness to each county its just rating in the schedule of percentages, which forms the basis of the table of equalization now awaiting your action.

Hearings at our office have been accorded to individuals, counsel, committees and delegations seeking advantageous county ratings. We have sought to be fair with these special pleadings, as with the counties not thus represented.

| We present to your honorable body the equalization table prepared by us, and recommend its adoption.

We have the honor to be,

Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. PRIEST,

LESTER F. STEARNS,

WILLIAM HALPIN,

State Board of Tax Commissioners.

Dated at Albany, N. Y.

This sixth day of September, 1904.

There being no appearance the Board went into Executive Session on motion of Tax Commissioner Stearns.

Executive Session:

On motion of State Treasurer Wickser, the equalization table as prepared and presented by the State Board of Tax Commissioners, was unanimously approved and adopted.

On motion of Tax Commissioner Stearns, the Board adjourned sine die.

HERBERT L. AUSTIN,

Secretary.

The following table of percentages, showing relation of assessed to actual value of 100, and equalization based thereon for the several counties for the year 1904, was unanimously adopted:
